DETAILED ACTION

Drawings

The drawings are objected to under 37 CFR 1.83(a). The drawings must show every feature of the invention specified in the claims. Therefore, the coating and filler must be shown or the feature(s) canceled from the claim(s). No new matter should be entered.

Corrected drawing sheets in compliance with 37 CFR 1.121(d) are required in reply to the Office action to avoid abandonment of the application. Any amended replacement drawing sheet should include all of the figures appearing on the immediate prior version of the sheet, even if only one figure is being amended. The figure or figure number of an amended drawing should not be labeled as "amended." If a drawing figure is to be canceled, the appropriate figure must be removed from the replacement sheet, and where necessary, the remaining figures must be renumbered and appropriate changes made to the brief description of the several views of the drawings for consistency. Additional replacement sheets may be necessary to show the renumbering of the remaining figures. Each drawing sheet submitted after the filing date of an application must be labeled in the top margin as either "Replacement Sheet" or "New Sheet" pursuant to 37 CFR 1.121(d). If the changes are not accepted by the examiner, the applicant will be notified and informed of any required corrective action in the next Office action. The objection to the drawings will not be held in abeyance.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

Claims 1-8, 11-15, 17-22, 26-31, 34, and 35 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Closkey (6,464,425). Closkey discloses a vent assembly (SEE Figures 6-10) and includes a metal body (508) having an aperture for the passage of fluid, a first membrane bearing surface (SEE Figures 8 & 9), a second membrane bearing surface (502), a porous polymeric (SEE column 5, lines 19-32) membrane (10) with filler, contacting the first bearing surface and second membrane bearing surface forming a seal and interference fit (as shown in Figure's 9-10) , a cap (503) having passages (504), wherein the membrane is made of PTFE (SEE column 5, lines 19-40). (Note: the teaching of the venting structure being "gas permeable" anticipates the applicants claimed "porous").

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claims 16 & 33 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Closkey (6,464,425). Closkey teaches the applicants primary inventive concept as stated above, but does not specifically recite that the vent body is made of stainless steel. It would have been obvious to a person having ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to have case the metal vent body out of stainless steel since it would have involved a mere selection of a metal based on the basis of suitability for the intended use.

Claims 9, 10 and 22-25 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Closkey (6,464,425). Closkey discloses the applicants primary inventive concept as stated above, but does not specifically discuss that the porous polymeric membrane has a coating (or a filler which is disclosed in the applicants specification as being synonymous with the coating). In view of the applicants acknowledgement that the membrane may "optionally include one or more fillers or coatings, also referred to as additives." It would have been an obvious matter of design choice to modify the teachings of Closkey by providing a coating on the porous membrane, since the applicant has not disclosed that having a coating solves any stated problem in a new or unexpected way or is for any particular purpose which is unobvious to one of ordinary skill. It appears that the claimed feature does not distinguish the invention over similar features in the prior art since, the porous polymeric membrane of Closkey will perform the invention as claimed by the applicant with or without a coating, since it is not a critical element and is only optionally incorporated.
